Dear Victoria;

I just finished reviewing your book "Just Point and Sign". I am thrilled to see that someone has taken the time to put in one book, the information and definitions needed for our business.

As you know, we spend a great deal of time trying to educate and turn notaries into competent signing agents. Your effort provides them and us with an excellent reference source. You have covered in a precise, yet complete, manner the information needed to be an informed professional.

We would certainly recommend it as a "Must Have" for anyone that is serious about our industry. We will be encouraging the notaries in our database to purchase a copy, study it and keep it handy as an excellent reference source.

Thanks for your efforts to enlighten and inform our industry.

Sincerely,

Lloyd Pace
